

Hi there! May we introduce ourselves?

We are coliberate, an implementation partner that supports organisations in their most challenging change and transformation journeys.

We apply our expertise in meaningful behaviour change to help you with the adoption of new solutions, ways of working and collaboration. Not only do we aim for better outcomes (better change). We make every change trajectory more fluent and effective (change better).

Being part of the Cronos ecosystem, we are at home in the world of digital transformation. But don't be misled. We also love to help you with your ability to execute in the fields of strategy, sustainability and HR 4.0.

Highlighting some of our clients

A great vision without implementation is just hallucination.

Thomas Edison (allegedly)

Our aim? Better Change. Change better.

What we notice? 70% of business & digital transformations fail. Most organisations struggle with yet another change initiative.

While the quality of their plans and solutions is often up to par, the challenge lies in the realm of human implementation and adoption.

Human behaviour presents itself as the primary obstacle, but it's also the solution.

Thanks to our deep understanding of human behaviour and the application of design thinking principles, coliberate increases the success rate of your next change journey. #BehaviouralDesign #Human-centered

(Y)our formula for success

We truly believe ...

The best results

come from ...

You could read this formula in its mechanic form. We prefer a more organic view.

We also help you to define better outcomes and to craft better solutions. As such, we drastically decrease the need to add mechanic adoption interventions. All thanks to our human-centred take on things.

By the way. This formula shows that adoption is inherently purpose & outcome driven.

We help you to...

- Boost the success rate of your next business, cultural and digital transformation
- Get a grip on strategic, tactical and operational challenges
- Shift from mechanical 'OK' to a culturally anchored approach
- Empower self-reliance in the realm of behavioural change
- Put an end to frustrations and escalating costs
- Revitalise workplace enthusiasm

Strengthened by our team of experts from the academic, scientific and business world.

What we offer

Let's zoom-in on our ACT A structured yet pragmatic approach

PLAN for IMPACT

INSIGHTS that MATTER

IMPLEMENT for SUCCESS

The difference that makes the difference?

- Leadership Alignment and Clear Shared Insights
 - Ensure alignment on the "why how what" of the change; it all starts here. Provide clarity on the change's impact and its landing context. Identify the populations that will be affected.
- Integrated Roadmap from a Technical and Human Perspective
- Translating Behavioural Insights from purpose to practice
 - Apply a behaviour lens on your intended outcomes and solutions #BetterChange employee engagement #ChangeBetter
- During Implementation
 - Establish clear & shared understanding of how success is measured from the outset. Prioritize support, monitoring and adaptation as critical components. necessary support for successful execution.

Develop an integrated plan that encompasses affected populations, adoption interventions and various changes.

Transform behavioral insights into actionable adoption strategies to create the right change context and enhance

Ensure absolute clarity regarding responsibilities during implementation, making it bulletproof and providing the

Each phase and its goal

Recognize the real challenge(s) and construct the approach, encompassing ambition, storyline, existing release calendar, work streams, and more. This approach considers both the organization's readiness for change and the expected impact.

> Insights that matter

Plan for impact

Put together in an integrated plan the interventions (change actions) and the "technical" delivery milestones, taking the humans (impacted populations) into account

The DCA in PDCA.

Driven by execution, measurement and lessons learned, we evaluate and adapt (more than once), while ensuring continuous knowledge transfer.

Implement for SUCCESS

We possess a tried-and-tested structured foundation that we tailor and adjust to align with your ambitions, maturity level and required capacity.

At every juncture, we employ a behavioral perspective, maintaining a human-centric approach throughout the entire journey.

From the initial design stage to the point where transformation unfolds, our objective is to empower your organization to become selfresilient.

What we do?

- Leadership Synergy: aligning leadership for tackling challenges and achieving results together
- Unified and Pragmatic Story: crafting a powerful, pragmatic narrative that encapsulates context, ambition, and objectives
- Thorough Analysis: delving deep into the nature and impact of various (sub)projects and workstreams
- Transparent Change Overview: offering a crystal-clear view of concurrent transformations
- People-Centric Impact Assessment: assessing how changes affect people, including trust levels

Insights that matter

Plan for impact

- Truth-Moment Alignment: identifying, mapping, and placing crucial truthmoments on the intended timeline
- Defining Critical Success Factors and Key Performance Indicators: establishing the essential factors and indicators for success
- Creating and Designing Adoption Interventions: crafting adoption strategies, including training, coaching, peer learning, interactive sessions, and shared experiences
- Streamlined Roadmap: consolidating everything into a comprehensive action plan, complete with monitoring checkpoints

- Execute the Roadmap: putting the action plan into action, embodying the 'D' in PDCA (Plan-Do-Check-Act)
- Adoption Monitoring: vigilantly tracking the adoption process, representing the 'C' in PDCA
- Adaptation for Sustained Ambition: adjusting based on monitoring outcomes, all while keeping the initial ambition in focus, exemplifying the 'A' in PDCA
- Knowledge Transfer and Maturity Enhancement: transferring knowledge, enhancing team maturity/selfsufficiency, and gradually reducing our presence

Implement for SUCCESS

Each of our 3 phases has an activity checklist that we finetune to the actual needs. What we do focusses on concrete deliverables and how we do it links to the collaboration model we select together to come to the result.

How we do things?

What we do focuses on tangible deliverables.

How we achieve it aligns with the collaboration model that we choose together for achieving the desired outcomes.

- In-Depth Interviews: conducting insightful one-onone interviews
- Leveraging Existing Resources: making the most of available information
- Active Observation: keenly observing the situation
- Survey Insights: gathering valuable insights through surveys if necessary
- Dynamic Workshops: facilitating engaging and interactive workshops
- Personal Conversations (Formal and Informal): engaging in both formal and informal one-on-one dialogues.

Insights that matter

Plan for impact

- Co-creation: collaborative efforts, mainly through wellprepared workshops and oneon-one conversations
- Iteration: a process that involves revisiting and refining ideas after a night's rest
- Formalization: structuring and documenting the outcomes into an integrated plan

Depending on the chosen collaboration model:

- a) Our presence in the field, engaging in activities like observation, feedback, coaching, and more
- b) Our supporting presence (strategical, tactical & operational) for the ones that need to lead and guide the change

• We harness every tool at our disposal to help you anchor the change effectively.

Implement for SUCCESS

Our collaboration models

"Based on your change maturity, any time constraints and your need for knowledge transfer, we'll determine the most suitable collaboration model for our partnership."

Tandem: Our Top Pick

We take a pragmatic, hands-on approach to ensure the most valuable insights emerge. Together, we transform these insights into an intervention roadmap that harmonizes seamlessly with technical delivery. From the moment implementation begins, we're right there, working hand in hand with your internal team to ensure we have the right resources in place for executing and anchoring the changes effectively.

Full-Scale Assistance

We offer complete support, taking charge of every aspect from start to finish. While not our first choice, in specific situations where space, resources, or context are limited, yet you're committed to fully supporting new initiatives, we handle the end-to-end execution alongside the project sponsor. Typically, it's a one-time effort, with the primary focus on execution over knowledge transfer.

You are in the Lead

Through coaching, we provide custom frameworks, templates, and structures. We're your sideline supporters, offering guidance and unwavering enthusiasm every step of the way.

Coming up: Two of our client cases.

We won't bore you with long descriptions. We're enthusiastic about visual harvesting, something we often incorporate into the transformation journeys we lead. So, we had an idea: why not use it to present some of our client cases in a distinctive and invigorating way?

Think of this as a conversation starter.

Let us take you through these one day!
